

AT THE MAT

PRIVACY POLICY

At The Mat is committed to keeping your personal information confidential, secure and private. Please read this Privacy Policy carefully to get a clear understanding of how we collect, use, protect or otherwise handle your personal information, including, but not limited to, the personal information you submit through our website.

ONLINE ORDER INFORMATION

When ordering on our website, you may be asked to enter your name, email address or other details to help process your transaction. We only collect the information needed to complete the processing of your orders. We also share your personal information with outside shipping companies to ship your order, but we do not provide any more information than necessary for these purposes. You may be re-directed to a third-party website such as PayPal or Stripe to complete payment processing and we are not responsible for the collection, use, or disclosure of personal information collected by such third-party website.

E-MAIL SUBSCRIPTION

Our newsletters are sent only to users who opt in. Our subscriber database is never sold, rented, or loaned to other parties. We will use your information to send you notices of workshops, upcoming events, and other information we may think is valuable to your use and experience of our website and other services.

ADDITIONAL INFORMATION AND SECURITY

By submitting your personal information to us, you agree that we may collect your personal information and you consent to the use, disclosure and transfer of your personal information in accordance with this Privacy Policy and as permitted or required by law. Subject to legal and contractual requirements, you may refuse or withdraw your consent to certain of the identified purposes at any time by contacting us at the address provided below.

When you visit our website, your web browser may send us certain information including your IP address, the name and version of your operating system, the name and version of your web browser, other technical data information, whether you accessed the website from your computer or mobile device, when you open emails that we send to you, the date, time and duration of your visit to the website, and geolocation data. This information helps us with system administration and to better understand how our users interact with our website and services, allowing us to improve your website experience.

A “cookie” is a string of information that a website stores on a user’s computer, and that the user’s browser provides to the website each time the user returns. We use, or may use, cookies to help us identify and track users, their usage of our website, and their website access preferences. If you do not wish to have cookies placed on your computer, you should set your browser to refuse cookies before accessing our website, with the drawback being that certain features of the website may not function properly without the aid of cookies.

Our website does contain links to other websites and we do not claim or accept responsibility for any privacy policies, practices and procedures of such other websites. When you use certain aspects of our website or you post information to other social networking sites such as Facebook or Instagram, the personal information you post or share in connection with these third-party websites is visible to other persons and can be read, collected, used and disclosed by other persons. Any information provided to such third-party social networking sites and other sites is outside of our control and is not governed by this policy.

We use appropriate security safeguards to protect your personal information against loss, theft, and unauthorized access.

CHANGES TO THIS PRIVACY POLICY AND CONTACT

We reserve the right to change, modify, add or remove portions of this Privacy Policy at any time and from time to time without prior notice to you. Any changes in our use of personal information contrary to your initial consent will be posted on our website with instructions regarding consent to any changes. All changes will remain in compliance with federal and provincial privacy legislation.
